ETN has circulated to all its members a call for topics, issues and initiatives that they feel could be useful to discuss during the workshop on 11 May 2017. This is a unique chance for all members to highlight a specific problem that they would like to see addressed or propose a specific initiative. The call is open until 9 am on Tuesday 14th March 2017. A final agenda with the selected topics will be circulated in the last week of March to the whole ETN community. ETN will provide feedback to the respondents if relevant.

Call for members of the IGTC-2018 Conference Advisory Board

The Conference Advisory Board (CAB) for IGTC-2018 will be elected during the 2017 AGM. The essential task of the CAB is to guide the definition and theme of the IGTC, identify and engage with potential keynote speakers, and most importantly, to review and select the technical papers to be presented during the conference. Members that are willing to contribute with their technical and market knowledge to ensure a relevant and high quality conference are invited to put their name forward. The next IGTC will take place in October 2018 in Brussels. If you wish to express your interest or would like to know more, please contact Thibault Bouterin: tb@etn-gasturbine.eu
